

22nd March 2009

Boltblue Communications Ltd
PO Box 52769
LONDON
EC2P 2UW

Ref.: www.mike.munro.cwc.net

Dear Sirs,

Earlier this week, I found that all of my web pages, which are part of the above domain, which I believe your company administers, are no longer accessible. A quick search on cwc.net domains using Google, showed that none appear to be currently accessible.

Please can you confirm if this is a permanent state of affairs or if it is only temporary due to server upgrades, maintenance etc. If permanent, please advise the reasoning, and if the cwc.net domains are likely to be hosted by another ISP. If temporary, please advise when you expect normal access to be resumed.

I have been very happy with the service I have received over the years since this domain was transferred from NTL to yourselves, and would prefer if this was to continue for the foreseeable future.

I look forward to your response.

Regards,

Michael P. Munro

E-mail mike.munro@boltblue.com

PS – Your ‘Contact us’ page indicates that phone support is available 10:00-18:00, phoning after 5pm produced the message that phone lines are only available 09:00-17:00 !